FIFTEEN CENTS

More drug arrests?

Haley charges iceberg's tip?

by GLORIA DAVIS

"This is just the tip of the iceberg, watch it, there's more to come," said Palm Beach County Assistant State's Atty. Jerome Davis, concerning the drug indictments made against three members of Antioch's Haley family by a federal grand jury in Chicago, on Thursday, July 5.

Davis added that he would make use of the indictments against William Haley and James Amoroso, McHenry, at their sentencing for dope trafficking into West Palm Beach, Fla., set for sometime in August.

"I think these indictments will make a difference in their sentences," he added.

Media coverage of William Haley's alleged connection with the importation of marijuana began in 1980 when he was 38 years old.

That's when he was stopped in Puerto Rico for dropping drugs from an airplane.

Haley was released without being tried. At that time a federal drug enforcement agent alluded to letting "one fish go now so we can pull many more in with a net later," when asked about Haley's release.

Now Haley, who is 44, has been indicted by a federal grand jury on several new charges connected with drug importation.

U. S. Attorney Daniel Webb, in speaking of the Antioch drug operation allegedly managed by William Haley cited it as "one of the most sophisticated and largest rings in northern Illinois. Seven other people were also indicted by the grand jury for being part of Haley's operation.

Clement Haley, 38, his brother, was also charged with drug-related felonies and John Haley, another brother was charged with two misdemeanor counts of aiding, abetting, and simple marijuana possession.

The Haley's are part of a large, well-known Antioch family, members of which have long been involved in local businesses and politics.

Both older Haley's are listed as owners of the famed "Blarney Island," a popular oasis in the center of the Chain O'Lakes.

Haley and Clement are both pilots and have been charged with flying in some of the tons of marijuana they allegedly brought into the U.S. from Columbia.

Haley's ring, and the other one indicted by the grand jury, one operating out of St. Charles, run by a Dan Davis, are credited with importing over $5 million in drugs.

Named as part of Haley's ring are, Peter Loris, 39, Chicago (reportedly also working with the Davis ring), Jeff Berry, 33, Detroit, Mich., Michael Johnson, 37, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Robert Hoffman, 35, Lake Villa.

Amoroso, who has been going through the Florida judicial system along with William Haley and was also convicted with him for hiring Woodrow Wilson to fly marijuana into a West Palm Beach airport where Wilson and the drugs were taken into federal custody, was also indicted.

Wilson, granted probation for giving information on drug trafficking into that state according to Florida law, was the chief witness that convicted Haley and Amoroso in June.

Hoffman also arrested in connection with drug smuggling allegedly engineered by Haley, was released after promising to do the same but reneged on his promise of giving testimony.

Both William Haley and Amoroso are due (Continued on Page 8)

Grass Lake, Lotus

'Why merge now' is top parents' question

by GLORIA DAVIS

After two hours of discussion, sometimes rather heated, the 50 Grass Lake School electors left the school on Thursday, July 5, to await the public hearing on the proposed Grass Lake-Lotus School merger on Monday, July 9, at the Lake County Bldg. in Waukegan.

The concerned parents that chaired the meeting voiced questions on the merger that they claimed they could not get clear answers to.

Shirley Kittle quoted figures she had gathered on state aid and taxes, past, present, and possible future, and Marie Brausam repeatedly asked the school board members present why the referendum had to be on this November's ballot.

The parents chairing the meeting gave credit to school Supt. Richard Hogan for the fine work he had done bringing the school up to its present fine standard.

They added that they thought that Hogan had done this with the cooperation of the PTO and other active school district electors.

"We like our school the way it is and no one has shown us that our children will gain enough from the merger to justify the inevitable tax raise it will bring," was the consensus of those running the meeting.

The school board members present, some other parents, and a few teachers, said that Grass Lake was facing a merger sometime in the future because of the pending cut in the number of Lake County school districts as predicted by Lake County School Supt. William Thompson.

They urged the parents to do it now before they were forced to do it at a soon-to-come later date.

Many of the parents asked if Emmons School had been contacted in regards to a possible merger. School Board Member John Steitz said that he had, but had received a negative response.

The parents quoted part of the minutes from an Emmons School Board meeting that said that board would consider it but had received no further word from Grass Lake.

John Steitz, after reiterating the response was negative, said he would talk again to Ann Kaiser, Emmons Board president.

In answer to repeated objections to "being railroaded" into the merger and questions of "why this November," Bob Mattson, Grass Lake School Board president said that the board didn't even have to bring the question to referendum but it had given the parents a choice by putting the question on the November ballot.

"Vote it down then if you don't want it," he said.

Lotus School, whose board requested the merger because of pending financial problems, has 950 electors and Grass Lake 1,150.

The parents running the meeting repeatedly said "We are not definitely against a merger, we think this is happening too fast and would like time to consider all the alternatives."

The stance of the board members seemed to be complete faith in Hogan, who is for the merger, because of his past performance.

Hogan reaches possible retirement age in five years.

"I have confidence that we can do with Lotus what we did with Grass Lake," said Mattson.

Some of those present said, "We don't want to start working all over again."

Antioch man killed in 1 car crash

An Antioch man, Roy Andrews, 31, Loon Lake Dr., was pronounced dead at the scene of a one car accident, at 1:30 a.m., on July 6, in Libertyville.

According to the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., the accident occurred at the point on Peterson Rd. where Midlothian Rd. comes to a dead end.

A witness at the scene, Charles P. Titus, told sheriff's deputies that he was asleep in his home when he heard the crash. He found Andrews laying face up, outside a badly smashed vehicle in a cow pasture near his home.

The lights and engine of the vehicle were still operating when Titus arrived at the scene. The Grayslake Rescue Squad arrived and called Lake County Deputy Coroner L. Thomas, who pronounced Andrews dead at the scene.

According to the sheriff's report, investigation showed that Andrews had been northbound on Midlothian Rd. on wet pavement since it was raining at the time. He failed to yield to the stop sign at Midlothian and Peterson.

There were skidmarks on the road for 80 feet after which the Andrews' car became airborne for 36 feet, struck a t-section warning sign and barbed wire.

July senior activities

A full schedule of activities is planned for the month of July at the Antioch Area Senior Center. Highlighting the month is a picnic planned for July 19 at Williams Park, in Antioch, with food, fun and festivities for all.

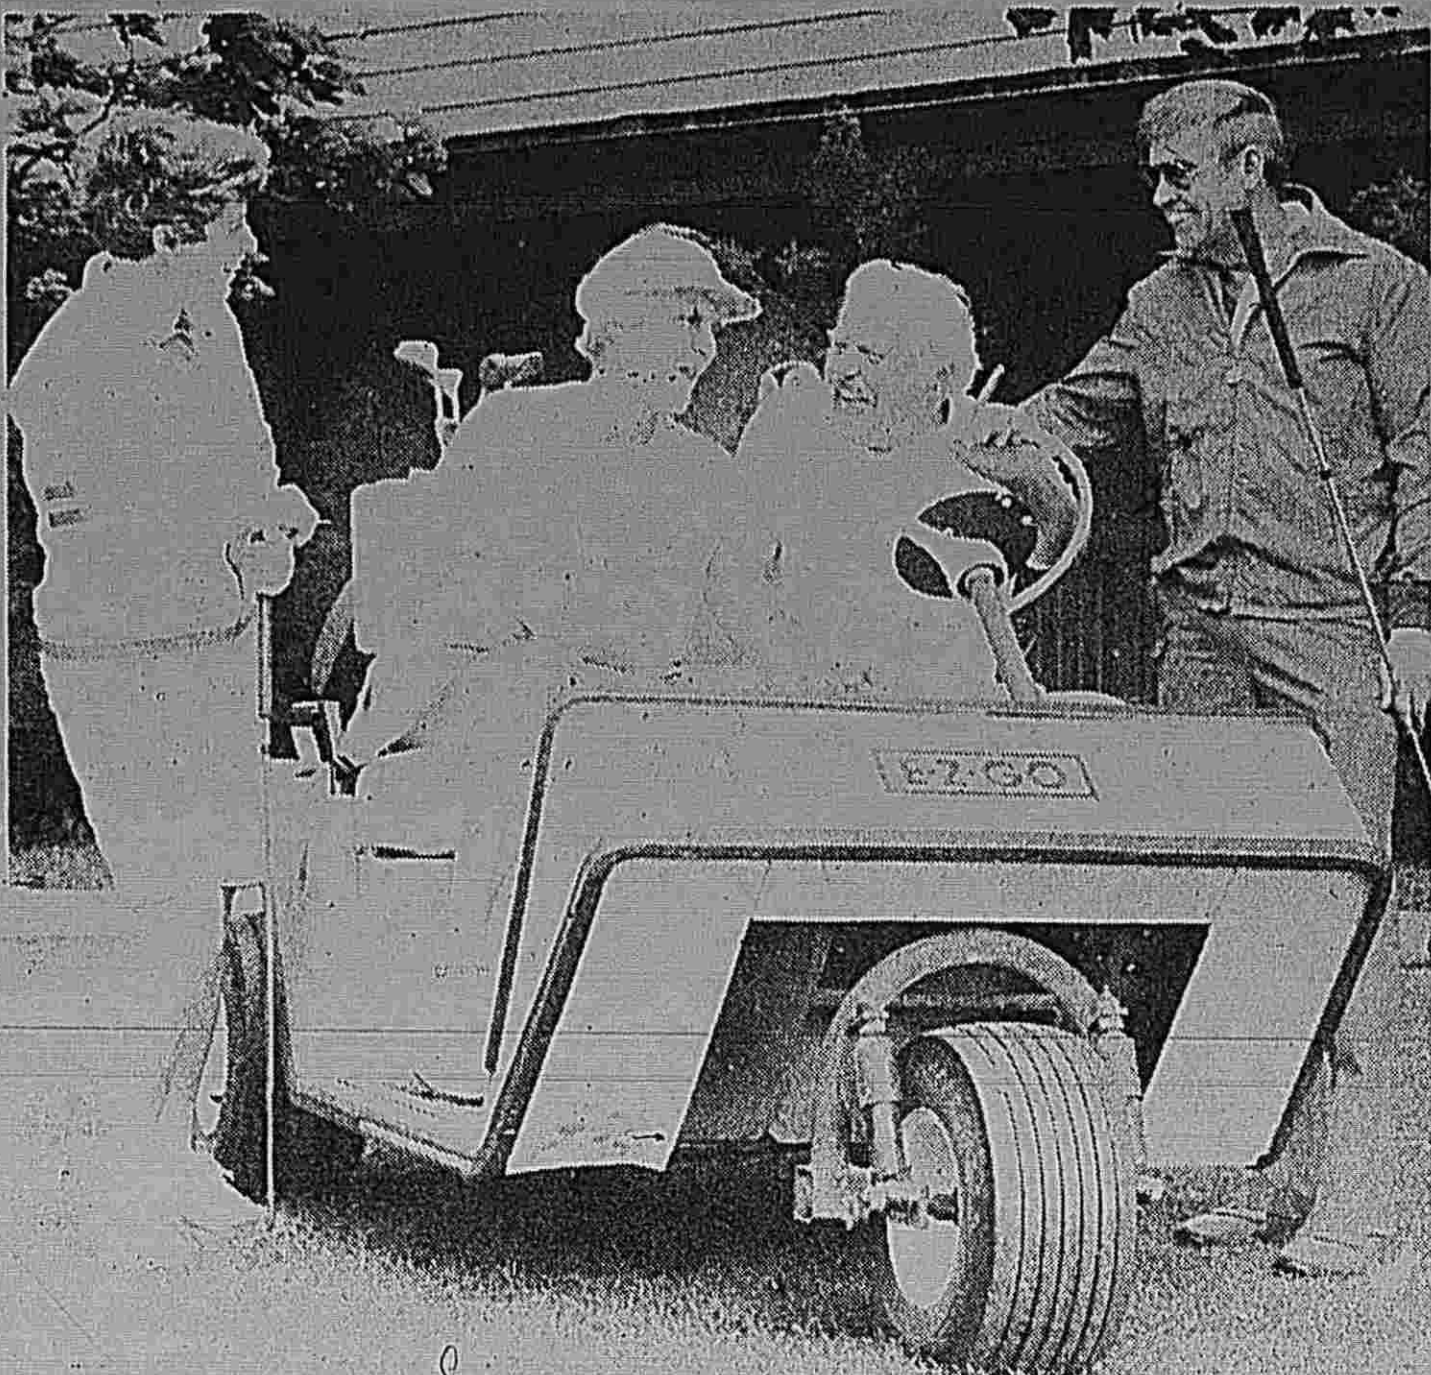

A pinocle tournament begins this month, as does a genealogy group for those interested in learning more about their family's history.

Rules of the Road for Seniors will be held on the last two Monday mornings of the month. Special day trips are planned to both the Arlington Park Racetrack and to the Warsaw Restaurant in McHenry.

Speakers this month will discuss the following topics: "Fiber as a Part of a Healthy Diet," "Legal Services For Seniors," "Diabetes; Dental Hygiene," and "Safety for Seniors."

Ongoing activities such as games, cards, exercise, crafts and chorus continue throughout the month. All are welcome at the center.

For more information on any of these programs, or to be put on the mailing list, please call the center at (312) 395-7120.

THAT WAS A GREAT SLICE! — Stahding, Bev and Pres Reckers stop and do a little golf chatting with Elaine and Ev Ortedahl, sitting, at Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry's Golf Tourney.

Seniors install officers

Installation of new officers for the Antioch Chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) was held June 26 at the Windjammer Restaurant with President Ullrich presiding.

The Rev. Theodore Bessette of St. Ignatius Church of Antioch gave the invocation.

Ullrich honored four past presidents. They were Dolly Spiering, Esther Aini, Cecile Mann and Ruth Rynders. Aiani was unable to attend. Chapter member Clara An-tink also was honored.

Arline Brumbaugh was presented a plaque and a gift for making all the table decorations this past year and Glen Peterson also was given a plaque and a gift for the tours he had arranged for the chapter.

Spiering was honored with a toast for her birthday.

Guest for the day were Mayor Toft of Antioch and State Director Virginia Marquardt of Chicago. Assistant State Director

Geraldine Anderson of Gurnee was the installing officer. Those installed were President Robert Ullrich, first Vice President Sam Lombardo, second Vice President Francis Winecki, Secretary Lorraine Grant and Treasurer Chester Schultz. New board members installed were Florence Johnson, Francis Tomisick, John Babik (Glen Peterson filling in as proxy) and Esther Aiani (with Irene Bedner filling in as proxy) as they were both unable to attend.

Music was provided by accordionist John Spytek, who plays for the Antioch Senior Center.

The AARP annual picnic was held June 28 at the Lake Villa Township Park. Bingo was played and Brown's chicken lunch was served. Dolly Spiering served her large rose decorated birthday cake. An enjoyable time was had by all.

A special board meeting will be held Tuesday, July 10 at the Antioch Township Hall, Rte. 173, Antioch. All new officers, board members and committee chairmen are asked to attend. The next regular meeting for AARP will be on Tuesday, Sept. 11 at the Antioch Senior Center as there are no meetings in July and August.

Hope To Save Lives

450 see school museum at July 4 open house

The first open house at the Old School Museum was a resounding success. Over 450 visitors toured the building during the Fourth of July event in the building which is being restored by the Lakes Region Historical Society.

Carol Whitton, chairman of the acquisitions committee which hosted the open house and provided the punch and cookies, said, "I never thought so many people would be interested." She added that she hopes the event can become an annual affair.

Many of those in attendance recalled their days as students in the school. Several were surprised to find their names on the blackboard as they were left when the band had its last practice in Room 4. In that same room desks, some from 1890, faced the board as though waiting for the children to return.

In the entrance hall, several display cases contained mementos from Antioch's history. A recent acquisition, a set of 1840's furniture, flanked the door and gowns from the society's collection hung from the walls and graced two dress forms.

"We are grateful to all those who have donated so many valuable items and so much time to the society," said Mel Knirsch, the organization's president. He also expresses the hope that more workers will turn out on work days.

"We have a great deal of work to be done, and we would like to be well along before bad weather sets in," he added.

Work days are held on the first and third Saturdays of every month. Work begins at 8:30 a.m.

MEET CONGRESSMAN — At left, Dr. and Mrs. Ron Erdman meet Congressman Phil Crane on trip to Washington, D.C.. In front are Brett and Bradley Erdmann who also enjoyed hearing Crane, center, and dad discuss old days at Bradley University where Crane was Erdmann's history professor.

CAUGHT FLOSS

Q. My dental floss often catches between my teeth and is very hard to remove. How can I prevent that?

A. Sometimes, when teeth are close to each other, floss meets resistance in getting between them or getting out again. To make this easier, there is a gadget available at pharmacy counters which permits a better finger grip and more leverage in flossing between tight teeth. Extra-fine floss may help, too.

Other patients may run into flossing difficulties because of rough edges or overhangs of fillings which catch and fray the floss. This happens when amalgam fillings crack or roughen at their margins, creating uneven surfaces. Floss catching can also occur around crown (cap) margins that do not fit properly. Your dentist should be able to remedy any of these problems.

Referendum Nov. 6 to decide Chain agency

Gov. James R. Thompson has cleared the way for a referendum for Nov. 6, 1984 for the creation of the Chain of Lakes-Fox River Water Management Agency, Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-McHenry County) announced.

The bill signed by Thompson swept through both Houses with virtually unanimous roll calls with strong bi-partisan support.

The Nov. 6, 1984 referendum will be held for voters in the townships of Antioch, Grant, Lake Villa and part of Cuba township in Lake County and parts of Algonquin and Nunda townships in McHenry County.

SENATE BILL 1381 which set up the referendum, was sponsored in the Senate by Schaffer and in the House by Rep. Dick Klemm.

The bill would provide for the first election of board members in the regular April, 1985 election (should the voters approve the November 6, 1984 referendum).

Schaffer indicated, "I know I, as well as all the other people involved in the work of this legislation, when I say that we're happy that the people will have an opportunity to vote on this question. I would also like to thank Gov. Thompson for signing the bill as quickly as he did to enable us to have the remaining part of the summer and early fall for public discussions of the merits of this proposal."

"In addition to setting the date of the election for the initial referendum, SB 1381 also provides specific guidelines on fees. The agency can only charge for recreational and commercial boating fees. It would not be able to charge a fee for swimming, fishing, waterskiing, snowmobiling, construction of piers or anything else other than the boating fee. In addition, the original legislation prohibited any form of property sales or income tax," said Schaffer.

"THE NEW agency would have many responsibilities relating to maintaining and improving the Chain of Lakes and Fox River and be eligible for state, federal and other funds to help finance its programs," said Schaffer.

"Since boaters will receive the most direct benefits of the new agency, the boating fee seems like the most appropriate funding mechanism and since well over half of boaters on the Chain are non-residents, a substantial part of the fees would be raised by the new agency that would come from non-residents who utilize this natural resource," he added.

"In addition of passing SB 1381, the legislature also added an appropriation of $500,000 to the Division of Water Resources' budget," Schaffer indicated.

"I have contacted the governor's office and suggested that these funds could possibly be put to use by the new agency to begin its programs should the voters choose to create the new agency in November," he concluded.

Anyone interested in receiving a copy of the complete act as signed into law should contact Schaffer, 56 North Williams St., Crystal Lake.

News/OPINION

The Antioch News welcomes letters to the editor. Letters should be on topics of general interest, approximately 150 words or less and be signed with home address and telephone number. Guest editorials are also invited. They should be a minimum of 250 words and signed. The editor reserves the right to condense all material addressed to this page.

When I think about it Much ado about a lot ain't such a bad idea!

Lately I've come across a lot of apathy concerning violations of morality such as the use of four-letter words, the abuse of dope and alcohol, taking and making illegal bribes and blatant sex exposure.

There's much said about the "silliness of censorship of language and sexual information around teens since 'they use those four-letter words in everyday conversation and probably know more about sex than their parents.'"

The other day I read an editorial making fun of a school board that was concerned about the morality of certain books in a school library.

This particular newspaper person chided, "Much ado about nothing," saying that real pornography was running rampant on the public newsstands, available to all.

If this channel of thinking were to be pursued by everyone, I can hear a police chief now as he gives orders to his men, "Men, we have a murderer loose in town so until he's caught, ignore any robberies or rapes that might be in progress and go after that murderer."

Being aware that it is possible that your children hang around with kids that use bad language and maybe use the bad language themselves is one thing, but actually giving up that part of their training seems to me to be a real cop-out.

The least parents can do is not allow such actions in their presence and continue to teach kids wrong from right. If it doesn't work, at least you've done your best and not condoned such behavior through silence.

The presence of "girlie" magazines in the home and the availability of questionable literature in a school library does the same thing, endorses by association.

Those that say forget about the kid with a lid of marijuana and go after the dope pusher have a point, (I sometimes think it's at the top of their heads) but they seem to forget that from little seeds big plants grow.

In other words, if the small offender is ignored, human nature almost positively dictates that misdemeanors very often become felonies.

Better to catch a small hand in the cookie jar then to try and catch one big hand in the cash drawer and the other holding a gun.

"Why bother to raise the drinking age, underage kids have been drinking for years and they will always be able to get booze." How often have you heard that one?

It is a proven fact that when there is a law against something there will always be violators, but that law will still stop some, whether it be because of fear of punishment or just plain conscience pangs.

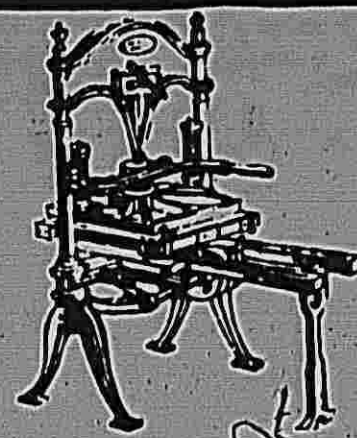

So Mom and Dad, even though you don't want to see your teenagers in the roles of unwed parents, is it right to teach them about contraceptives or is that just issuing a license to practice immorality?

Instead, take pains to see that teens are well educated in the pros and cons of premarital sex and, most of all, learn the necessity of responsibility for their own actions.

Choosing the lesser of two evils ergo, "I'd rather see my kid drink than take dope," is practicing a real double standard.

Both are violations of the moral and penal codes and preferring what you might consider to be a grey-bad to a black-bad is like being a little bit pregnant, a real distortion.

It's the old game, never plan on getting all that you ask for so exaggerate your requests. If you ask your kids for behavior perfection, I'll guarantee they'll come across with a lot less but believe me, the pickin's will be no way near as sparse as they will be if you demand nothing.

Don't forget the Antioch Chamber of Commerce's Art Fair set for Williams Park this coming Sunday. I expect it to be the interesting event it always has been in the past.

Let's just hope that this year we don't have the usual "hottest day of the year," for the fair.

Congrats to Trisha Malson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Malson, who made the dean's honor roll at Lawrence University in Kansas.

And I see that ditto goes for a freshman at the College of St. Teresa, at Winona, Minn., Donna Graesser, who scored a 4.0.

And guess who's the proud possessor of a brand new sheep skin! Thomas Stroschein, who graduated cum laude from Marquette University in Milwaukee.

It also looks like Christina Zalapi made a top grade rank at Carmel High School For Girls in Mundelein.

Whoops! Almost forgot Scott Poulter who made the dean's list at St. Norbert College in DePere, Wis..

Antioch has a lot of young people to be proud of and that list includes our military, Dean Haviland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Haviland, has completed U.S. Air Force ROTC field training encampment at Tyndall Air Base, Fla.

Haviland is a student at Southern Illinois University in Carbondale.

And Pvt. Jeffery Andersen, son of Kenneth Andersen of Antioch and Donna Andersen of California, has completed a motor transport operator course at the U. S. Army Training Center, Fort Leonard Wood, Mo..

How about that Miss Antioch Contest! Those judges really had a difficult decision to make! All the girls were such pretty things in their formals.

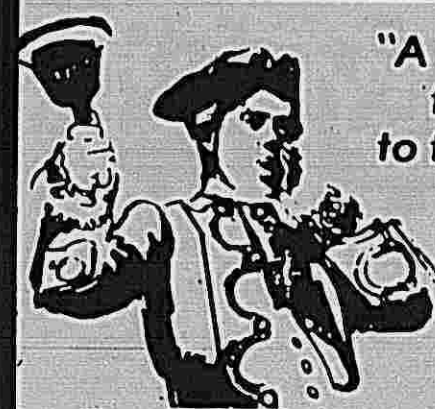

But I must say, that Lorin Buchta was a standout, she was my choice right away!

Speaking of hard choices, I hope that the little old News and Reporter make that pet and bike parade an annual thing. All the kids were so cute and they really seemed to enjoy the whole thing.

Musical melodrama to be at PM&L on July 20

Rehearsals are under way and running smoothly for the P.M.&L. Theatre's final show of their 23rd season in Antioch; "The Labors of Love," an old fashioned melodrama set in a musical format.

According to director Tom Hausman, there are many people who deserve credit and thanks for helping to make this ambitious project a success. Elmarie Beno is stage manager for the show and Peter Thelen is the musical director.

Set design and costumes are being handled by Hausman. The set is being constructed by Bill Baum with assistance from Bruce Edwards, Mark Badtke, Reggie Lightfoot, Stephen Biel, Elmarie Beno, Jane, Amy and Tom Hausman.

Lighting is under the supervision of Scott Kiederlen with help from Mark Badtke. All in all, everyone involved from singers, dancers and actors to stage hands and ticket takers are actively engaged in a "labor of love."

The musical "mellodrammer," "The Labors of Love" will be presented July 20, 21, 27, 28, August 3 and 4, at 8:30 p.m.; and on July 29, at 2:30 p.m. Reservations can be made (312) 395-3055.

Dinner theatre packages can be obtained at the Village Pub (312) 395-3373 and Struggles Restaurant, (312) 395-9400, both in Antioch.

The air-conditioned P.M.&L. Theatre is located at 877 Main St. in downtown Antioch.

St. Peters plans summerfest

Admission is free to a fun summer evening, Saturday, July 28, at St. Peter's Church grounds in Antioch.

The fun begins at 6 p.m. with plenty of good food.

There will be drinks, games, a dunk tank, and homemade pastries from St. Peter's Women's Club.

Foot stomping music by the "Tom Sittler Band" from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Followed by "Smile A Lively 50's and 60's Rock and Roll band from 8:30 p.m. until midnight.

Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Erich Lubkeman

Bierbasz—Lubkeman

One-hundred twenty guests attended the wedding of Kim Bierbasz and Erich Lubkeman Jr. on May 21.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bierbasz of Watford, Wis., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Erich Lubkeman Sr. of Antioch were united in a 4:30 p.m. wedding by the Rev. Daraed Gruen at the Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church, Antioch.

The groom's mother made the veil worn by the new Mrs. Lubkeman.

Honor attendants were Jean Mierow, the bride's sister, and Dave Horton. The bride's sister Gail Harding was bridesmaid and the groom's cousin Jeff Stokes was the groomsman.

Bill Dave and Eric Gaylor, brothers-in-law of the groom, performed ushers' duties.

The wedding couple was honored at a reception at the Windjammer Restaurant, Antioch.

The bride is employed as a commercial artist at The Advertiser, and the groom is a stationman at the Zion plant of Commonwealth Edison Co. He also is a volunteer paramedic for the Antioch Rescue Squad.

Dug Out to host tournies

Dug Out Park in Trevor has set the dates for two more 16 inch tournaments.

On July 14 and 15 is the Annual Mixed 16 Inch Tournament.

It is played with teams of six guys and five gals.

Entry fee is $80.

On July 21 and 22 is the Mid-Summer 16 Inch Tournament.

It is for teams class "B" and below.

Entry is $100.

There are trophies and traveling expense for the top teams.

For more information call Tom Furlan at (414) 862-9936 or (312) 395-5788.

Schedule Bible school

Children from the age of three through the eighth grade are invited to attend one week of Vacation Bible School, from July 16 through July 20, at Faith Evangelical Church, 1275 S. Main St., Antioch.

The sessions will run from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. each day. The key truths of the Bible will be studied and supplemented with projects and refreshments. Registration will be held from 8:30 to 9 a.m. Monday, July 16.

Support groups to meet

Adult stutterers are invited to participate in support-group activities.

A speech therapist is present as an observer. The program is free of charge.

Refreshments will be served.

At 7 p.m. Monday, July 16, Easter Seal Society of Lake County, 1125 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville (Ranch-style brick building behind Winchester House on Winchester Road).

Survivors of poliomyelitis are invited to attend a meeting of a postpolio syndrome support group on Tuesday, July 17.

The meeting will commence at 7 p.m. at the Easter Seal Headquarters. For further information on either program call the Easter Seal office (312) 367-1750.

Obituaries

Betty Lou Willett

Funeral services for Betty Lou Willett, 55, of Antioch were held on July 5 in Antioch.

Mrs. Willett died on July 2 at Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan. She was born on Dec. 23, 1928 in Chicago and lived in Antioch since 1949.

She was a member of the Royal Neighbors of America. Survivors include her husband, Bernard "Bud," one daughter, Cindy, at home; one sister-in-law, Helen Lang of Waukegan; and one niece.

Interment was private.

Memorials may be made to the Antioch Rescue Squad.

Arrangements were handled by Strang Funeral Home, 1055 Main St., Antioch.

Carol DuPuis

Funeral services for Carol Hinks DuPuis (nee Hinks), 46, of Trevor were held on July 3 in Antioch.

Mrs. DuPuis died on June 29 at Kenosha Memorial Hospital. She was born on June 6, 1938 in Chicago and had lived in Trevor for many years.

She attended the National College in Chicago, the University of Wisconsin-Parkside in Kenosha where she earned a bachelor of arts degree.

She taught at St. John's Grade School in Paris, St. George's School in Kenosha, Grayslake High School and for the past several years as a social studies teacher and cheerleading coach for Antioch Community High School. She was a member of the Illinois and National Teachers Assn.

Survivors include her husband, Michael R.; three daughters, Coleen (Terry) Biel of Waukegan, Nancie (Don) Steffan of Arlington Heights and Marilyn Lozano of Roswell, N.M.; her mother, Catherine Hinks of Lombard; two sisters, Lorraine (Jim) Aseltine of Lombard and Adele (Frank) Isaacs of Woodville, Texas; and three grandchildren.

Interment was at Holy Name Cemetery in Wilmet.

Memorials may be made to one's favorite charity.

Arrangements were handled by the Strang Funeral Home, 1055 Main St. in Antioch.

Marriott Theatre to have double feature

"A Day In Hollywood/A Night In The Ukraine," a musical double-feature, is a hilarious tribute to the movie palaces of the 1930's and the glory days of Hollywood comedy.

Nominated for nine "Tony Awards" (including "Best Musical") "Hollywood/Ukraine" will have its Chicago premiere at Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre beginning July 18 and will play through October 7.

The first act (A Day In Hollywood) takes place in the lobby of the famous Grauman's Chinese Theatre in Hollywood, where the deco-uniformed ushering staff sing a musical tribute to the screen stars and productions of the magical era of movies in the '30's.

From the famous footprints in the pavement to a medley of Richard Whiting tunes, including "Too Marvelous For Words," "Ain't We Got Fun," "Sleepy Time Gal," and "On The Good Ship Lollipop," this riotous revue has one purpose on it's zany mind—to royally entertain!

As a finale to act one the cast sings a preview of the coming attraction of act two, A Night In The Ukraine, the movie musical the Marx Brothers never made.

A Night In The Ukraine has a plot and a cast of characters worthy of any sassy Marx Brothers' nostalgia: a wealthy widow, her darling daughter, Samovar the lawyer (Groucho), an Italian footman (Chico), his brother (Harpo), and an innocent coachman; who all converge in the widow's stately Ukrainian mansion shortly before the revolution.

This surprise package of melody and charm features a book and lyrics by Dick Vosburgh ("Windy City") and music by Frank Lazarus, with additional songs by Jerry Herman ("Hello Dolly" and "LaCage Aux Folles").

Call the Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre box-office, (312) 634-0200, for information and reservations. "A Day In Hollywood/A Night In The Ukraine" is two hilarious hits for the price of one.

Haley

to be sentenced on the West Palm Beach conviction inside of the next two months.

Davis requested that the sentencing be held off because he was aware of the grand jury investigation going on in Chicago.

Ira Raffelson from Webb's office would not say whether or not Haley and Amoroso are now in federal custody. Davis had said that Amoroso was taken out of Florida on a federal writ a week before the indictments burst forth.

Originally, on the Palm Beach conviction, Haley faced a mandatory three years to a maximum 30 year jail sentence plus a fine.

If Haley either pleads or is found guilty of the new multiple charges, ranging from continuing criminal practice to conspiracy in interstate drug transporting, he faces more than a another mandatory 10 years to a maximum life sentence and more than $200,000 more in fines.

Clement Haley pled not guilty in front of a federal magistrate the same day, that the indictments were released. At present he is out on $6,000 bond.

John Haley had been stopped a few years ago at O'Hare International Airport when the brief case in which he was carrying $250,000 to finance a blue grass concert in Lake County was sniffed out by the marijuana dogs.

William Zeigler of Round Lake is owner of the plane confiscated in the West Palm Beach case. Davis said that Zeigler, who has claimed complete ignorance of drug smuggling, offered to testify against Haley in exchange for immunity.

Davis refused to deal with Zeigler who did not testify.

Raffelson confirmed that the Haley ring indictments were connected with a 1979 bust of a major marijuana Texas-based smuggling ring. Herman Holbek, born and raised in Antioch and Ronald Wessinger, Bristol, were sent to prison after being convicted of being area supervisors of that ring.

Appoint sales agents

Gary O. Burnette has been appointed sales agent by Allstate Insurance Co.

His appointment follows the successful completion of an extensive training course in the firm's marketing training center and the receipt of his state license to sell insurance.

A native of Antioch, Burnette graduated from Antioch Community High School and attended Florida Southern College. He, his wife, Linda, and their son reside in Antioch.

Headquarters for Burnette will be the Sears, Roebuck and Co. building, Hawthorn Shopping Center, Vernon Hills.

Randy G. Flicek has also been appointed sales agent by Allstate.

His appointment followed the successful completion of an extensive training course in the firm's marketing training center.
